

CHSC6220 STUDENT LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

By the end of the semester, students will be able to:

- Discuss the major concepts and frame works involved in community organization
- Describe methods for gaining entrée and trust in community settings
- Identify methods and approaches for assessing a community's current health and potential for health development
- Explain major community organization strategies
- Discuss methods for evaluation community organization efforts
- Discuss the roles, rights, and responsibilities of parties involved in community organization efforts.