

International Health and Development

INHL 7010: The HIV Epidemic in SE Asia: The Thai and Vietnamese Responses

STUDENT LEARNING OBJECTIVES

At the completion of the course, students will be expected to be able to:

1. Describe and explain the key features of the Thai and Vietnamese HIV epidemics; and the national responses to them.
2. Evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of the various sectors of the Thai and Vietnamese programs.
3. Distinguish between the influence of specific features of the socio-cultural and economic context and the influence of public health programs.
4. Apply key features of the Thai and Vietnamese responses to other developing countries that are trying to contain the HIV epidemic.