

International Health and Development
2009

INHL 701: The HIV Epidemic in SE Asia: The Thai and Vietnamese Responses (3 credits)

VanLandingham and Do

STUDENT LEARNING OBJECTIVES

At the completion of the course, students will be expected to be able to:

- Describe and explain the key features of the Thai and Vietnamese HIV epidemics; and the national responses to them.
- Evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of the various sectors of the Thai and Vietnamese programs.
- Distinguish between the influence of specific features of the socio-cultural and economic context and the influence of public health programs.
- Apply key features of the Thai and Vietnamese responses to other developing countries that are trying to contain the HIV epidemic.