

INHL 683 - International Health Policy
International Health and Development

2009

Learning Objectives:

By the end of the course the participants will be able to:

1. Define the key factors that enable and restrict the policy environment across a number of countries and different political and economic health and social systems.
2. Describe the impacts of different aspects of globalization on various actors and processes within a health policy framework
3. Describe the main actors involved in making policy including donors, political leaders, NGOs and health managers
4. Write effective policy memos
5. Conduct a stakeholder analysis of a complex policy environment, and
6. Use appropriate skills for working in a team to present complex findings in a direct, polished manner.